

OESTERREICHISCHE NATIONALBANK
Eurosystem

The Vienna Institute for International Economic Studies

Robert Feenstra
University of California at Davis

Globalization and its Impact on Labor

chaired by

Peter Backé
OeNB

Michael Landesmann
wiiw

Thursday, February 8, 2007, 4:30 p.m.
Oesterreichische Nationalbank,
Veranstaltungssaal, Ground Floor,
Otto-Wagner-Platz 3, 1090 Vienna

You are cordially invited to a buffet right after the end of the lecture.

Please reply by e-mail by Monday, February 5, 2007, at the latest :
andrea.paleczek@oenb.at

Robert C. Feenstra holds the C. Bryan Cameron Distinguished Chair in International Economics at the University of California at Davis. He is also Director of the International Trade and Investment Program at the National Bureau of Economic Research (NBER), Director of its Center for International Data and Director of the Pacific Rim Business and Development Program, Institute at the University of California at Davis. Amongst many other affiliations, he is International Research Fellow at the Kiel Institute for World Economics at the University of Kiel from which he received the Bernhard Hams Price in 2006. Robert C. Feenstra acts currently as Associate Editor of the American Economic Review; formerly he was editor of the Journal of International Economics and Associate Editor of the Review of Economics and Statistics.

Robert C. Feenstra is author of 'Advanced International Trade: Theory and Evidence' Princeton University Press, 2004 – a leading graduate textbook in international trade – and editor and co-author of a number of other books on international trade including 'The Impact of International Trade on Wages' National Bureau of Economic Research, 2000 and 'Emergent Economies, Divergent Paths: Economic Organization and International Trade in South Korea and Taiwan' Cambridge University Press, 2006. He has published a large number of articles in leading scientific journals on topics including outsourcing and wage inequality, export variety, and index numbers.

Professor Feenstra's lecture is organized jointly by the Oesterreichische Nationalbank and The Vienna Institute for International Economic Studies (wiiw). The lecture is part of the wiiw's Lecture Series on the Global Economy.